INNOVATION IN ACTION

FINDING TRACTION ON THE TARMAC

READ MORE >>>

"IT'S REALLY REWARDING TO BE PART OF THE DEVELOPMENT PROCESS."

— PETER, OPERATIONS SAFETY MANAGER

HOW TEAMING UP WITH A MAJOR AIRLINE AND MICHELIN'S WINTER TIRE EXPERTS LED TO THE INDUSTRY'S MOST INNOVATIVE SPIKELESS TRACTION DEVICE.

Of 3.8 million disabling injuries each year, 15% are caused by slips, trips and falls. And it's not just bruised egos at stake. With 700 fatalities in the workplace and up to 15% of workers compensation costs, it's deadly serious (and costly).

Few know that risk better than the hard-working folks schlepping luggage around icy tarmacs from clock in to clock out. And for the Delta operations team at Minneapolis-St. Paul Airport, spiked ice cleats were turning out to be more trouble than they were worth—putting workers in danger of slipping as they transitioned from the tarmac into slick cargo bins.

PARTNERS IN PROBLEM SOLVING, A TO Z

READ MORE >>>

“THEY NEEDED HELP BEYOND THE FEATURES AND BENEFITS OF THE PRODUCT. THEY NEEDED A SUPPLY CHAIN PARTNER.”

— MARK, NATIONAL ACCOUNTS, ERGODYNE

SQUIDS 3132 | BARCODE SCANNER HARNESS

The Squids 3132 Barcode Scanner Harness is designed to keep barcode scanners secure and accessible. With its ambidextrous design, the industrial-grade harness maintains a comfortable fit for both right- and left-handed workers while keeping scanners ready for use.

OUT OF ONE, MANY. THE SQUIDS SCANNER HARNESS INSPIRED AN ENTIRE LINE OF DEVICE MANAGEMENT SOLUTIONS.

WHEN ONE OF THE BIGGEST ECOMM GIANTS IN THE WORLD HAD A PROBLEM, ERGODYNE AND ITS PARTNERS HAD THE SOLUTION—AND THEN SOME.

THE PROBLEM(S) An online retail behemoth needed a solution for its fulfillment centers to keep expensive handheld scanners safe, secure and easily accessible.

What's more, they needed a sustainable supply chain strategy to guarantee the solution would stay in stock and on workers.

“Their current [scanner harness] option wasn't viable in the long term,” said Mark Boland, Ergodyne National Accounts Manager. “They couldn't square the lead times with challenges like seasonal influx of demand and new fulfillment centers constantly opening up, among many other challenges.”

THE SOLUTION(S) So at the same time Ergodyne got to work devising a scanner harness solution to address workers' needs, they also set out to solve supply chain headaches with a little help from their friends.

“The infrastructure was very much there already thanks to [our distributor partner's] strong existing relationship with the facility,” explained Boland. “They had been supplying PPE and gear onsite for awhile and that had been going well. It was a matter of plugging into that and making our scanner harness part of a sustainable supply channel the customer already knew and trusted.”

Within a few months, the Tenacious Work Gear® line welcomed its newest member: the 3132 Scanner Harness + Lanyard. Better yet? It could now reliably be found in vending machines on site thanks to a bit of creative problem solving and Ergodyne's industry relationships.

DELIVERING BEYOND EXPECTATIONS In typical Ergodyne fashion, things didn't stop there. “We saw more opportunities to build on [the 3132 Scanner Harness] with an entire category,” said Nate Bohmbach, Ergodyne Product Director.

And build they did, going from that one single scanner harness to an entire offering of device management solutions in about 18 months.

“Think about your typical day and how many people you see using scanners and handheld computers, From the people delivering packages to your door to the ones putting them in your trunk at curbside. These things are everywhere, but they come in all shapes and sizes and are applied differently from role to role and organization to organization.”
